Reconciling Democracy with Liberty The scope of majority rule should be limited to those issues and areas in which common standards must prevail to preserve public peace. Democracy is a relatively good method for reaching agreement on a system of roads, but .

Democracy assures that the will of the people shall prevail, and that is liberty. So long as democracy is preserved we can rest assured that liberty will be continued to the full." The more a person leans on an unsure support, the more certain he is to fall.

The Constitution was designed to further the cause of liberty, not democracy. To do that, the Constitution protected individuals rights from the government, as well as from their fellow citizens.

I have said, for years, that democracy is an enemy of liberty. You could read the ten posts to that effect at my old blog (here, here, here, here, here, here, here, here, here, and here).
