A facial tic is a brief, involuntary twitching of muscles in the face. Premature ventricular contractions (PVCs) Premature ventricular contractions are extra heartbeats that start in one of the lower chambers of your heart. Acute stress reaction. Acute stress reaction symptoms include shortness of breath, anxiety, nervousness, sense of doom and more. In many people, coronary artery spasm may occur without any other heart risk factors (such as smoking, diabetes, high blood pressure, and high cholesterol). Symptoms Spasm may be "silent" (without symptoms) or it may result in chest pain or angina. A coronary artery spasm is a sudden tightening of the muscles within the arteries of your heart. When this occurs, your arteries narrow and prevent blood from flowing to your heart. Muscle Twitches Joystick22 Sometimes I get this weird fluttering like feels like muscle twitching exactly where the heart is, it doesnt last to long mostly 10 seconds, but the thing is my i can feel my heartbeat when im getting the twitches to and my heartbeat feels normal. Coronary artery spasm is a sudden, temporary tightening of the muscles in the wall of an artery that sends blood to your heart.
